One day, Lily met a woman named Mrs. Smith. Mrs. Smith was kind and compassionate, and she saw the beauty in Lily that others didn't. Mrs. Smith helped Lily to see that she was beautiful, no matter what anyone else said.

With Mrs. Smith's help, Lily began to believe in herself. She started to stand up to the bullies, and she began to make friends who accepted her for who she was. Lily learned that she was not alone, and that there were people who loved her for who she was, not for how she looked.

Lily's story is a reminder that we are all beautiful, no matter what our differences. We should never let anyone tell us otherwise. We should all strive to be like Mrs. Smith, and see the beauty in everyone we meet.
